DID YOU KNOW

Whilst the Granville is one of the oldest hotels in the country, it is also one of the most historical buildings.

The Granville hotel was once one of Waterford's gracious old mansions, built in the reign of George III by the Quan family (Thomas 'Francis' Meagher's mother was a member of the Quan family) Thomas Francis Meagher aka: "O'Meagher", or "Meagher of the Sword" was an Irish nationalist. In his younger years he became an Irish revolutionary. During this time Meagher introduced the flag that is now regarded as the national Flag of Ireland. In 1848, Meagher was convicted of sedition and sentenced to death. Due to public outcry, his sentence was commuted to expulsion to Van Diemen's Land on the Australian state of Tasmania.

In 1852, he escaped to the United States. Once in the United States he joined the United States Army and served as a Brigadier General during the American Civil War, and most notably forming and leading the Irish Brigade.

Following the Civil War, Meagher served as acting governor of the Montana Territory. In 1867, Meagher drowned in the Missouri River.
